DETAILED ACTION

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 7, 8, 12 and 14-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fuchs in view of Richardson further in view of Kinoshita et al.

The reasoning for these claims to be rejected on this combination of prior art references can be found in the previous Office action on the merits, mail date 2-15-04, and is incorporated herein.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6-1-04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Applicant contends that "Fuchs does not disclose or suggest displaying, prior to commencement of the next hand, those winning outcomes which have been eliminated by depletion." The Examiner respectfully disagrees. In Fuchs, as symbols are deducted, it is logical that winning outcomes become unavailable, as the symbols needed to achieve these outcomes are no longer in the indicia set. Thus, for the next hand of play indicia will only be selected from the remaining, yet depleted, inventory. In sum, what is disclosed, taught and suggest by the prior art is the same yet state in different semantics than the Applicant as stated it.

The Applicant's contention against the teachings of Richardson is not commensurate with the teachings used in the rejection by the Examiner. Richardson's analogous device is being used to show that it is well known in the art to direct a reconstituting an inventory after certain winning combinations are already played.

The contentions that the Applicant has raised against Kinoshita are not commensurate to the utilization of Kinoshita in the rejection of the claims. Kinoshita et al. is being used to demonstrate that it is well known to those skilled in the art to display the possible winning outcomes that have been eliminated.

In sum, it appears that Applicant argues against the combination of references as not being able to be bodily incorporated into each other. In response thereto, the test for obviousness is not whether the features of a secondary reference may be bodily incorporated into the structure of the primary reference; nor is it that the claimed invention must be expressly suggested in any one or all of the references. Rather, the test is what the combined teachings of the references would have suggested to those of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981).

Also, in sum, responding to Applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3713
